

Travel

COMINGS & GOINGS

Package Tours for Cyclists and Beer Fans

Filip Singer/European Pressphoto Agency

By HILARY HOWARD

Published: August 3, 2008

A selection of package tours to the Czech Republic offer an antidote to the usual European sticker shock. Spa Triangle and Prague (www.bikeholidays.eu), a five-night biking trip running through October, visits Prague, Becov, Carlsbad and Loket, with self-led tours from 470 euros and guided tours from 1,040 euros, or $737 and $1,630 at $1.62 to the euro (prices are based on a group of six and include lodging, breakfast, route instructions, baggage transport, train tickets and schedules, spa admission, and personal assistance).

Related

Comings & Goings: New Sundance Reservations Service \(August 3, 2008\)

Comings & Goings: Web Site Offers Insider Picks \(August 3, 2008\)

And starting next April, Austrian Airlines will offer the Here for the Beer package, a six-night tour from $2,099 a person (double occupancy, based on a group minimum of 30) that includes two dinners, a visit to Prague Castle, the U Fleku, Staropramen, Pilsner and Budweis breweries, six nights of lodging in Prague, private bus transport and round-trip airfare (including fuel surcharges but not York or Washington (www.austrianair-vacations.com/hereforthebeer)).