

Tuesday, May 5, 2009, 4:23pm EDT

Village Place Brookhaven sold

Atlanta Business Chronicle

W Wrightwood Capital of Chicago said Tuesday it bought mixed-use development Village Place Brookhaven in Atlanta for an undisclosed amount.

The 5-acre community includes 41 luxury residences and 10 office condominiums built above retail and restaurant space in two buildings on Dresden Drive.

“Village Place Brookhaven truly adds to the stable, established neighborhood surrounding it,” said Dillon Baynes, president of Atlanta-based W Orinda Corp., who will manage the project on behalf of Wrightwood Capital. “The retailers here are not solely dependent on residents of Village Place Brookhaven but actually benefit from traffic generated by our neighbors as well, and the fine restaurants in the area have already become destinations in themselves.”