Polls

Airlines' first quarter results were generally positive. Improving revenue trends::

- Will continue through 2010; the economy is rebounding steadily.
- Will reverse; the economic recovery is uncertain.
- Will vary by region; Asia is strong but Europe, hit by the volcanic ash crisis and Greek fiscal troubles, is weakening.

Qantas will introduce daily A380 service between Melbourne and London Heathrow and six-times-weekly A380 flights between Melbourne and Los Angeles as its eighth, ninth and tenth A380s are delivered by the end of the 2011 first quarter. The services are expected to be launched by March 2011. Qantas has six A380s in service and expects to take delivery of its seventh in the final quarter of 2010, enabling Sydney-LHR A380 services to go daily.

Etihad Airways launched twice-weekly Abu Dhabi-Erbil service aboard an A320. "Iraq is a key market for Etihad and will be an important focus for the airline in 2010," CEO James Hogan said.

Royal Jordanian relaunched thrice-weekly Amman-Bangkok-Kuala Lumpur service aboard an A330 following a 7-year hiatus that it said was due to "commercial reasons."

AirBaltic launched five-times-weekly service from Stockholm Arlanda to Oulu and Tallinn aboard an F50 and twice-weekly Riga-Amman service aboard a 737.

Wataniya Airways launched four-times-weekly Kuwait-Alexandria service.

Spirit Airlines will launch thrice-weekly Fort Lauderdale-Barranquilla service July 29.

Lufthansa will launch four-times-weekly Munich-Baghdad service Sept. 30, operated by PrivatAir aboard a 737. It last operated the service 20 years ago. "Against the backdrop of the economic recovery and as foreign companies establish themselves in the country, there is growing demand for flights to Iraq," Group Representative and Head of Hub Management Munich Thomas Klühr said.

Air Canada launched daily seasonal St. John's-London Heathrow service aboard an A319 through Sept. 26.

Finnair will launch five-times-weekly Toronto-Helsinki service June 6.

AirTran Airways launched daily service from Huntsville to Baltimore and Orlando.
