Kaleidoscope Bistro & Pub to Open at Village Place Brookhaven

Local chef and Brookhaven resident Joey Riley will open Kaleidoscope Bistro & Pub at Village Place Brookhaven this fall.

Michael T. Mitcham of Mitcham & Associates served as the broker on the deal.

Village Place Brookhaven is already home to J. Christopher's, Verde Taqueria and The Library Coffee Co. Yoforia will open later this month. Other tenants include The Little House of Art, Cocktails & Canvas, Natural Body Spa and Shop, The Mercantile, Davonshire, Allure and Pro Cleaners, with restaurants Haven and Valenza across the street.

Located in Atlanta's Brookhaven community on Dresden Drive within walking distance from the Brookhaven/Oglethorpe MARTA station, Village Place Brookhaven has 41 residences and 11 office condominiums, built above retail and restaurant space in two buildings. The live-work community is in a 5-acre park-like setting not far from Peachtree Road. The development is close to restaurants and cafes and is five minutes from Lenox Square, Phipps Plaza and the Buckhead business district.

"I have been living in Brookhaven for more than a decade and while passing Village Place Brookhaven on my way to work, it became obvious that this mixed-use development would be the perfect spot for me to open my own restaurant," says Joey Riley, who for the past six years has been the executive chef of Buckhead Life Restaurant Group's Buckhead Diner.

Riley was born in Florida, went to the Culinary Institute of America in New York and spent time in Thailand. Since coming to Atlanta in 1989, he has worked as chef in nearly a dozen restaurants in Atlanta including TomTom, Goldfish and Nan's Thai Fine Dining.

"Kaleidoscope Bistro & Pub at Village Place Brookhaven will not only be an asset for the development, but for the entire community," says Dillon Baynes, president of Orinda Corporation, who manages Village Place Brookhaven on behalf of Wrightwood Capital.
