Health(y) Business for Turner

We're happy to welcome new sponsor Digital Agent! Click ad at right to see why your choice of IT and VoIP vendors isn't limited to big corporations. You get can get the customer service you deserve.

We decided to check out Turner Construction's latest hometown project, the CDC's Building 23 (gotta love the CDC's sexy naming strategy). It's one of about 125 healthcare facilities Turner (the largest healthcare builder in the US, according to Engineering News-Record) delivers each year.

The 730K SF building on Clifton Road was designed by CUH2A (with HQ in Princeton, NJ, and an office in Atlanta). The facility completes the replacement of all outdated CDC biological laboratories, including the oldest lab buildings on the CDC's main campus. What's happening inside Building 23? Research on malaria, AIDS, parasitic diseases, Salmonella, and E. coli. Regardless of LEED status, the building will have plenty of green faces.

Boost for BeltLine

The Atlanta BeltLine got a $5 million boost from Sarah and Jim Kennedy/PATH Foundation and Kaiser Permanente. The organizations are donating $2.5 million each to the BeltLine Partnership Capital Campaign to support the building of the Eastside Trail. Above is our favorite map of the planned BeltLine route (we ran a two-part series on the BeltLine a few weeks ago). The big plan is to develop a new modern streetcar or light-rail transit system along a 22-mile loop of historic rail lines. Alongside the new transit will be multi-use trails plus plenty of parks. Jim Kennedy, chairman of Cox Enterprises, co-chair of the Atlanta BeltLine campaign (and cycling enthusiast), explains his donation: "We have always wanted a trail like this in the city and this will be used and enjoyed by thousands of Atlantans each day."

Tired of only suggesting AT&T when tenants ask about telephone and computer vendors? Atlanta-based Digital Agent is a property manager or broker's dream: A one-stop shop offering a comprehensive suite of services including Integrated Voice & Data Networks, VoIP Telephony, IT/LAN Design & Support, and Low-Voltage Cabling. One provider, fewer invoices. Digital has also developed a free WiFi HotSpot service for building conference rooms, cafes, and lobbies (installed and managed by Digital Agent at no cost to the building's management). We snapped EVP Andrew Purinton, who tells us since starting in 1998, Digital Agent has a track record of combining state-of-the-art technology with high-touch customer service. Plus, Digital Agent understands even the little things have value (yes, that's an authentic Imperial Walker miniature from the original Star Wars trilogy). More info.

Buckhead Diner Chef Goes Solo

We snapped Buckhead Diner yesterday—and just taking the pic made us hungry for those Maytag blue cheese potato chips! Joey Riley, who's been executive chef at this Buckhead Life restaurant for six years, is leaving and opening Kaleidoscope Bistro & Pub this fall. Riley and his business partner Doug Gross leased space at Village Place Brookhaven, near both their homes. "I've been living in Brookhaven for more than a decade and while passing Village Place Brookhaven on my way to work, it became obvious that this mixed-use development would be the perfect spot for me to open my own restaurant," Joey says. He promises Kaleidoscope's menu will offer something for everyone with fresh, local ingredients. Sounds good, but in the meantime, we'll be at Buckhead Diner enjoying those chips!

BISNOWBerry Cool

We had no idea July was National Berry Month until this morning. That's when Loews Hotels alerted us it will mark the occasion by teaming with leading berry producer Driscoll's to set up Berry Concierge stations at its 17 properties during the July 4th weekend. Of course, this includes the new Loews on Peachtree Street, which will place the berry stations in its lobbies and at its resort property pools. Better yet, guests will receive free red, white, and blue "mocktails" or cocktails during the afternoon of July 2 and 3.

BISNOWTHE SCENE

Jezebel Magazine continued its summer after-work mixer series last week at Buckhead's Thirsty Dog Tavern. Emory's Richard Stevens, Tan 2 You's Nicole Williams, and Modern Models' John Page were among guests who sampled good eats.
