

- Home
- About
- Fare Sales
- Hotel Deals
- Images
- Subscribe

Lapland's Ruka is Europe's First Ski Resort to Open Slopes

by Staff on October 19, 2010

 Louise Plonowski, Bram Majtliis and 225 others like this. Unlike

Subscribe via RSS or email for future updates.

Ruka ski resort in Finnish Lapland opened its ski season on October 18, once again becoming the first ski resort in Europe to open its slopes.

The resort's tourism authority says Ruka has been the first ski resort in Europe to open its slopes for the past 10 years.