ATLANTA – For the second year in a row, Atlanta City Councilman Kwanza Hall is partnering with Sweet Auburn Curb Market to deliver decorated trees and baskets of fresh produce to families in C District 2 who could use some extra joy during the holiday season.

And thanks to a partnership with Bicycle Tours of Atlanta www.biketoursatl.com (<http://www.biketoursatl.com>) Hall is pleased to announce that trees donated to families with children between the ages of 10 and 15 include bicycle ornaments that can be redeemed for free bikes and helmets after each child completes a three-hour bicycle education course.

Councilmember Kwanza Hall and Atlanta Police Department Zone 5 Commander Khirus Williams, Santa's faithful helpers, will personally deliver the decorated Trees of Joy on December 22, with the Zipcar www.zipcar.com (<http://www.zipcar.com>).

This year, the program will benefit the families of Operation P.E.A.C.E., a nonprofit organization that provides after-school programs for youth in the Bedford-Pine community, in Atlanta's historic Old Fourth Ward.

The community is invited to come out and decorate a tree to be given away for a chance to win prizes.

The Sweet Auburn Curb Market is located at 209 Edgewood Avenue SE, Atlanta, GA 30303. Hours of operation are Monday-Saturday 8 a.m. to 6 pm. Please contact the market manager in advance with your team, to ensure that a tree is ready for you to decorate: info@SweetAuburnCurbMarket.com (<mailto:info@SweetAuburnCurbMarket.com>)

For more information about the Trees of Joy program, contact Councilmember Hall's office at (404) 603-6038.
