Polish Gems: Krakow and Warsaw Sparkle
08 Nov 11

Austrian Airlines' Off-season Vacation Packages Include Air and Hotel, Start at $999

ATLANTA - Krakow, Poland's 1,000-year-old cultural capital and one of UNESCO's World Heritage sites, continues to draw visitors from all over the world. This stunningly beautiful city, one of the few Polish cities not destroyed during World War II, easily takes visitors from the 13th century to the present - and back again.

Krakow's growing popularity as a tourist destination has prompted Austrian Airlines Vacation Center to create a number of vacation packages that feature the historic city by itself or in combination with either Warsaw (Poland) or Vienna (Austria). This winter, the Krakow City Steal starts at $999 per person double occupancy from New York or Newark and includes roundtrip economy class air transportation, three nights in Hotel PTTK Wyspianski (superior tourist class) in the heart of Krakow, daily buffet breakfast, hotel service charges and hotel taxes.

Off-season travelers can also combine three nights in Krakow with three nights in Warsaw @ $1,289 per person in three-star hotels, including first class rail transportation from Krakow to Warsaw. Finally, travelers who prefer to visit two cities in two different countries may want to check out the six-night Krakow-Vienna combination, starting at $1,219 per person. These packages are all valid for travel between now and December 14, 2011 and again from January 8-March 28, 2012, any day of the week, subject to availability. Weekend surcharges apply. Single supplements, upgrades, additional combinations and extensions are available upon request.

"Poland is full of treasures," notes Bram Majtlis, president of Austrian Airlines Vacation Center. "Personally, I go crazy over Krakow, home of my favorite composers Chopin and Paderewski. It offers culture, history and architecture around every corner."
